

Classroom Antics Announces New Program Coordinator

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 9, 2016

Contact: Tara Foote, Marketing Director

Cleveland, OH - Classroom Antics (<http://www.classroomantics.com>) announced today that Caitlyn “Kit” John has been promoted to Program Coordinator to further optimize and develop their growing portfolio of educational programs. Ms. John came to Classroom Antics with a solid background in technology, teaching, and communications, as well as a passion for technology education for kids.

She most recently worked as a Technology Camp Instructor for Classroom Antics during the 2016 summer camp season where she received exceptional reviews from both parents and students. Prior to working for Classroom Antics, Ms. John worked as a Technology Instructor for Tech4Kidz in Syracuse, NY. She currently holds a Masters of Science in Communication from Syracuse University and a Bachelor of Science in Communication from Ohio University.

“We are thrilled to have Kit serve as Classroom Antics’ new Program Coordinator,” said Toby Foote, Co-Owner of Classroom Antics. “We look forward to the positive impact she will have on our current programs and new initiatives that will continue to advance our educational offering for children in the area.”

“Classroom Antics has an impressive lineup of programs and is positioned well for growth in the area of STEAM education,” states John. “And I am excited to be a part of helping them achieve that growth.”

Classroom Antics is a leading provider of STEAM learning programs for kids, located in Cleveland, Ohio. The organization is focused on giving students hands-on experiences that enhance their learning, increase creativity, and encourage collaboration. They currently offer programs in over 30 locations throughout Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, and Northern Kentucky. For more information about Classroom Antics, visit www.ClassroomAntics.com or call 800-595-3776.

###